

The Mission of The Pittsburgh Experiment is to encourage men and women in the workplace to seek and share Jesus Christ in every aspect of life.

SMALL GROUPS - WHAT FOR?

Fellowship (Koinonia) provides:

1. An atmosphere of acceptance as I am.
2. An opportunity for me to begin at my level and be myself.
3. An opportunity to discover that I'm not alone -my needs and circumstances are not unique.
4. An opportunity to discover that God in Christ is alive and to experiment with my faith.
5. An opportunity to discover who I am and experiment with new steps in growth - in the context of a relationship with Christ and others.
6. An experience of caring and support from others.
7. An opportunity to build close and deep relationships.
8. An opportunity to build a trust level with others (maybe for the first time).
9. An opportunity (in acceptance) to discover and utilize new gifts.
10. A source of continuous hope and assurance, as I see others change and as they witness to that fact that a living Christ has done the changing.
11. An opportunity to discover my significance in God's plan as I see people change through me.
12. An opportunity to learn to get in touch with my feelings.
13. An opportunity to learn to get in touch with my need.
14. An opportunity to learn to get the tools to sort out what my needs are.
15. An opportunity, in an atmosphere of love and caring, to become vulnerable and learn to share my faith appropriately.
16. A training ground to speak in public.
17. Through others , the opportunity to be trained by the Holy Spirit regarding
  - the how-to's of having and maintaining a vital faith
  - know-how about who God in Christ is
  - understanding about what is happening to me.
18. The discovery of your ministry where you are each day and the support to carry it out.
19. An experience of ministry in depth.
